Executive Proclamation

Office of the Governor

Whereas, South Dakota was founded with hard work, perseverance, dedication to duty, and concern for others and each of these attributes can be ascribed to Brian Bauer, who has served 27 years with the state of South Dakota; and,

Whereas, Brian began his career in state government on May 24, 1988, with School and Public Lands as a land agent, and continued with the Department of Transportation as a labor compliance officer, the Department of Education as a senior accountant, and the Department of Labor and Regulation as an economist and currently as a statistical program manager; and,

Whereas, Brian performed a variety of jobs including preparing industry projections, providing users with Davis Bacon Wage Determination information, providing input into two South Dakota longitudinal education-to-career tracking programs, and assisting several United States Bureau of Labor Statistic state-run programs; and,

Whereas, Brian's time with the Labor Market Information Center (LMIC) consisted of traveling across South Dakota assisting with execution and collection of data for several LMIC-specialized agricultural employment; and,

Whereas, Brian will retire on June 8, 2015, to spend more time with his wife, Elaine, and family; and,

Whereas, It is fitting and proper as Governor to make special note of this outstanding South Dakotan on this momentous occasion:

Now, Therefore, I, Dennis Daugaard, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim June 8, 2015, as in South Dakota, and I join his family, friends, and colleagues in offering him best wishes for an enjoyable retirement.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-first Day of May in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Fifteen.

Dennis Daugaard
